

Richmond Chamber in the News

Annual Chamber Membership Directory under construction

The next edition of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce Membership Directory is currently in development. Don't miss out on this once-a-year opportunity to market your business to the more than 1,000 members of the Chamber as well as the thousands who call the Chamber and who visit our webpage for referrals to local companies. The Chamber receives hundreds of calls to our offices and hits on our website each week for information about living and doing business in the Richmond area.

We are pleased that CANADAWIDE publishing in partnership with RHINO PRINT SOLUTIONS, which has published the directory for three years, will once again produce the publication. This valuable resource is a comprehensive source for information about local economic indicators and the community. It is the main reference tool used to promote member-to-member business. The directory is listed in the Chamber's website for easy reference and referral and is widely distributed to companies and individuals relocating to or doing business in the city of Richmond. Visit the "Member Directory" section of <http://www.richmondchamber.ca/> to view the entire guide.

The 2005 directory will feature updated information on key business categories including business and finance, international commerce, professional services, telecommunications, health care, technology, real estate, retail and hospitality and tourism. Special company profiles will showcase industry leaders. Involvement in the guide is strictly limited to members of the Chamber.
