

Richmond Chamber in the News

Consul General Li invited to attend the luncheon meeting of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce and delivered a speech

05/20/2004

(By Chinese Consulate General in Vancouver)

On May 18, Consul General Li Yuanming was invited by the Richmond Chamber of Commerce to attend its luncheon meeting and delivered a speech.

In his speech, Consul General Li had introduced the economic development of China since it carried out the reforming and opening-up policy. His speech mainly composed of four aspects, namely China's current economic situation, the blueprint of China's economy, new changes in China's economy after WTO and the prospects of the economic cooperation between BC and China. In his speech Consul General Li had given data and examples to help the audience to better understand what had happened and were going to happen in China. He laid specially the emphasis on the prospect of the cooperation between British Columbia and China and gave many useful recommendations to those who were interested in investing in China. Consul General Li's speech has aroused the interests of the members of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce to learn more about China and to seek business opportunities in China.

More than 120 members of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce joined in the luncheon meeting. Mr. Malcolm Brodie, the Mayor of Richmond and Mr.

Joshua Hodgson the Trade Commissioner of International Trade Canada also attended.

<MORE>

Richmond Chamber of Commerce

INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS COMMITTEE (IBC)

Interested In Expanding Your Business Into International Markets?

The International Business Committee is facilitating one-on-one sessions with Joshua Hodgson, Trade Commissioner with International Trade Canada's Vancouver International Trade Centre. These sessions will be held in the Richmond Chamber offices.

You will receive assistance tailored to your interests in identifying potential markets, doing trade research, better understanding the challenges and opportunities of the export process and the market you wish to enter as well as suggestions on other programs and sources of information.

Interested?

Please contact Carol Young at the Chamber office (604) 278-2822, or one of the International Business Committee members for further information or to register for this valuable opportunity.

Cynthia Chen, 604.279.3838
Chair
International Business Committee

Doug Symons 604.277.2674
Vice-Chair
International Business Committee

